About Me

As a frontend developer, I have refined my expertise in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and TypeScript, utilizing these tools to create visually striking and responsive websites. In my capacity as a graphic designer, I am involved in crafting social media campaigns, developing multimedia projects, designing logos, video editing and creating digital assets. Additionally, I am an educator. Teaching is not merely a profession to me; it is a vocation, a source of enthusiasm, and an ongoing voyage of knowledge and development.
